HERE TO SERVE YOU

Serving the greater Mid-Atlantic market for over twenty (20) years, American Energy Services has provided turnkey solutions for lighting retrofits and energy audits within the commercial real estate industry, both public and private sector. American Energy is highly respected within the energy savings industry for the high-quality work performed and professionalism of our staff.

Throughout survey, design and execution, American Energy is involved in every aspect of a project, creating a strong line of communication between both client and end user. American Energy has developed a corporate culture that not only fosters pride, but encourages an open-book policy, whereby each employee is made aware of the financial aspects of the business, as well as its strengths and challenges. The result of this approach are employees who are well informed and motivated to serve the client.

Based in the Baltimore/Washington region, American Energy serves numerous customers including Fortune 500 companies, government agencies, healthcare facilities, schools and universities, property management companies, and building owners.

We look forward to serving you.
